§17-1725.1-55 Treatment of the transfer of income. (a) A transfer of asset penalty period shall be assessed if the institutionalized individual or their community spouse transferred:

- (1) Lump sum payments received in the month; or
- (2) An entitled stream of income (disclaimed or voluntarily agreed).

(b) The penalty period for the transfer of income shall be calculated by dividing the amount of income by the statewide average monthly cost of nursing facility services assessed to a private patient at the time the individual requests coverage of long-term care services. Disposal of such lump sum payments or the entitled stream of income constitutes a transfer of asset.

(c) The amount of income used to calculate a penalty period shall be:

- (1) The gross amount of the lump sum income transferred in the month it was received; or
- (2) The total gross amount of income expected to be received during the individual's lifetime when the entitled stream of income was transferred, which is calculated by multiplying the annual amount of income expected to be received during the individual's lifetime based on the life expectancy tables established by the Social Security Administration's Office of the Actuary.  - (A) Spouse of such individual;
 - (B) Child of such individual who is under age twenty-one years, or a blind or disabled child;
 - (C) A sibling of such individual who has an equity interest in the home, and has resided in the home for at least one year immediately prior to the date the individual becomes an institutionalized individual; or

 - (D) To a trust established after August 10, 1993, solely for the benefit of an individual under age sixty-five years who is disabled as defined in section 17-1719-10.
- (3) The individual can substantiate that the individual intended to transfer the asset:
 - (A) At either fair market value, or for other valuable consideration by providing substantiated evidence of attempts to dispose of the asset for fair market value, as well as evidence to support the value at which the asset was disposed; or
 - (B) The asset was transferred exclusively for a purpose other than to qualify for medical assistance by providing convincing evidence as to the specific purpose for which the asset was transferred.

- (5) The asset transferred for less than fair market value has been returned.
- (A) The returned asset must be evaluated for the impact on the individual's eligibility for Medicaid.
 - (B) If the entire transferred asset has been returned, the penalty period is negated. Coverage of long-term care services shall be provided for any portion of a penalty period that was applied prior to the return of the asset.
 - (C) If only a portion of the transferred asset has been returned, and the individual is eligible for coverage of long-term care services, the penalty period shall be recalculated based upon the balance of the unreturned asset.
 - (i) The end date of the recalculated penalty period shall be applicable if it exceeds the amount of the penalty period already applied; and
 - (ii) Coverage of long-term services shall be provided for the portion

(b) A penalty period that results in a partial month penalty shall not be rounded down or disregarded.

(c) A penalty period established for an asset that was transferred, shall be applied as follows:

- (2) A separate penalty period shall be determined for non-exempt transfers which occurred while a penalty is being applied for a previous transfer by an individual determined eligible for coverage of long-term care services.
- (3) The penalty period shall commence the later of:
 - (A) The date of request for long-term care services;
 - (B) The date the individual would be eligible for coverage of long-term care services but a penalty is being imposed under this subchapter; or
 - (C) The date a negative action can be taken in situations when timely notice of adverse action is required for the individual currently receiving coverage of long-term care services.

- (4) A penalty period that would commence within the term of another penalty period shall commence at the end of the prior penalty period.

(d) An established penalty period shall continue to run, regardless of whether the penalized individual no longer is eligible for medical assistance, or is not receiving long-term care services.

(e) The department shall send a denial notice to an individual requesting coverage of long-term care services, or an adverse action notice to an individual who is receiving coverage for long-term care services when imposing a penalty period. period may be waived if the department determines that the imposition of the penalty will cause undue hardship for the individual.

(b) Undue hardship exists if the application of a penalty period would deprive the individual of:

- (1) Medical care such that the individual's life or health would be endangered; or
- (2) Food, clothing, shelter, or other necessities of life.

(c) A waiver of a penalty period due to undue hardship may be granted if the individual provides satisfactory evidence to the department that the asset transferred:

- (1) Has been depleted below the resource standard specified in section 17-1725.1-43;
- (2) Has been converted to another asset that is not liquid or redeemable;
- (3) The return of the transferred assets would put the receiving party in serious deprivation such that the loss of income or the asset would qualify the receiving party for medical assistance;
- (4) The receiving party cannot be located by the individual or another including but not limited to the individual's spouse, other family member, representative, or an agent of the nursing facility, after all attempts to locate the receiving party have been exhausted; or
- (5) The asset was transferred due to theft, fraud, or financial exploitation upon the individual or their community spouse.

(d) The process for requesting and reviewing a waiver of a penalty period imposed for a transfer of asset due to undue hardship is as follows:

- (3) The department shall make a determination to grant a hardship waiver within ten business days after receiving the waiver request and supporting documentation.
- (4) An individual who is denied a hardship waiver shall be informed of the enforcement date of the penalty period and the right to request a fair hearing under chapter 17-1703.1.

(e) Nursing facilities may request a hardship waiver on behalf of their resident with the written consent of the resident or the resident's personal representative and may represent the resident or the resident's personal representative throughout the appeals process. §17-1725.1-59 Individual with substantive equity in a home property. (a) An individual shall not be eligible for coverage of long-term care services if the individual's home equity interest exceeds $750,000.

(b) The individual's home equity interest shall be determined by the fair market value less encumbrances.

(c) The provisions of this subsection do not apply if the individual's spouse, a child under age twenty-one years, a blind child, or a disabled child is residing in the individual's home.

(d) An individual affected by the provisions of this subsection is allowed to reduce their equity in the home property through the use of a reverse mortgage or a home equity loan without penalty.

(e) An individual affected by this subsection has the right to file for a waiver due to demonstrated hardship by which the individual is legally barred from taking action to access the equity in the property.

(f) Effective 2011, the amount of the equity interest shall be subject to increase each calendar year based on the percentage increase in the consumer price index for all urban consumers, rounded to the nearest $1,000. §17-1725.1-60 Waiver of excess home equity due to undue hardship.

(a) The denial for the coverage of long-term care services may be waived if the department determined that the imposition of ineligibility will cause the individual undue hardship.

(b) Undue hardship exists if the denial of coverage of long-term care services would deprive the individual of:

- (1) Medical care such that the individual's life or health would be endangered; or
- (2) Food, clothing, shelter, or other necessities of life.

(c) Undue hardship may be granted if the individual provides a written statement with satisfactory evidence to the department of the legal inaccessibility of the excess home equity through any means provided by the individual, spouse, legal representative or authorized representative from the nursing facility.

(d) The process for requesting and reviewing a waiver of ineligibility due to excess home equity is as follows:

- (1) The department shall send the individual a notice of denial or a notice of adverse action according to the requirements of chapter 17-1713.1 to inform the individual of ineligibility due to excess home equity
