

NAME: Crissi Doyle (she/her)

ISLAND: O'ahu

BIO: Crissi Doyle serves as the Title IV-A State Program Manager for the Hawai'i State Department of Education, where she supports statewide initiatives that strengthen educational opportunities and student success. She is also a nationally recognized speaker whose work focuses on belonging, authentic leadership, and the transformative power of education.

As a transgender woman, Crissi is passionate about improving public understanding of transgender issues while advancing equity, belonging, and opportunity for all members of Hawai'i's LGBTQ+ community. She believes meaningful change begins with respectful dialogue, genuine curiosity, and a willingness to learn from one another.

Crissi believes education is one of the most powerful tools for replacing fear with understanding. Through her work on the Hawai'i State LGBTQ+ Commission, she is committed to building bridges between communities, expanding access to gender-affirming healthcare, reducing barriers created by misinformation, and ensuring every person has the opportunity to live authentically with dignity and respect.

Whether serving Hawai'i's students, speaking to audiences across the country, or advocating within her community, Crissi is guided by one simple belief: every person deserves to feel valued, seen, and appreciated.

PRIORITIES: Advancing public understanding of transgender issues through education; expanding access to gender-affirming healthcare; promoting equity and opportunity for Hawai'i's LGBTQ+ community; strengthening partnerships between government and community organizations; and fostering a culture of belonging where every person is valued, seen, and appreciated.
